GUIDELINES FOR PATIENTS AFTER [^{233}Ra] TREATMENT

A patient after the application of 223Ra should observe the following rules for the 7 days following the administration:

- use only your own toiletries and utensils (e.g. cutlery, drinking vessels, towels, handkerchiefs etc.)
- thoroughly wash the hands with soap immediately after using the toilet
- flush the toilet well – twice will be best
- minimize immediate contacts with expecting or nursing mothers and babies to absolutely essential cases
- prevent other people from contact with the radium-treated patient's body liquids (saliva, blood, urine, stools etc.)
- take care that any materials contaminated with the patient's body liquids are immediately cleaned or dumped
- use a condom on intercourse
